You came like a never-ending happiness...
Then, why did you leave a bleak for happiness?
You promised me you won't let me cry...
How did you become the reason for my sorrow?
You hugged me and said, I am with you...
Why don't you say?
Still, you are with me...
I loved you for all your lies...
I loved you for all you were...
But you ended all at once...
No more of you and your thoughts...
If something is there, it's your memories...
Memories that make me laugh, that make me cry...
I ask myself, what for did you come into my life?
Then, my heart pounds and answers
JUST TO CHERISH YOU AND YOUR MEMORIES...
