

Divyamol Thomas

(Lecturer in English, Dept. of English, University First Grade College, Mangalagangothri, Mangalore, 574199)

The World of Illusion

This world is full of illusion,
With blurry vision of love, leads to delusion
Virtuous conscience drained out to the core,
What remains remind me of the apocalypse!

This world is on the verge of destruction,
We have seen many wars,
But this is the era of
Piercing an iron rode through vagina!

This is a cold world
Swallowed by darkness,
Where love deceit in the form of
A fruit juice challenge!

This is a wild brutal world
When the snake appears and reappears
In your bedroom as in the Eden
With its venom, you never can escape!

Close knit family; husband wife,
Father, mother; propitious relations
Get merged in mouthwatering gravy and rice
Make it irresistible!

This savage world is full of men and women,
Cruel barbarians; like a dragon blew fire,
Consume everything around!
I wish for the appearance of Kalki!!